I wish we could have at least copy and paste abilities in order to copy files from the internal HDD / external USB drive and/or a remote SMB share.

I agree some sort of built in file management would be nice.

BUT please make it so that this can be turned on or off. Like the DELETE option. I find this option extremely useful, but also extremely dangerous. I normally have it off because I wan't everyone to use my PS3 but I don't want any accidents :-)

I normally do all file management mostly through FTP.

IMO a file manager plugin would be excellent also (but I don't know if plugins have access to file system - so this might not be that easy). One that you could install or not and with an interface for the HTTP server.

Hmmm, I have had quite a few mp4 players with file managers and everyone has had access to them...the only thing is obviously the system files etc...but multiman access to drives etc...I suppose it depends on who has access...
